PELLETS

Standlee Premium Western Forage® Beet Pulp Pellets are high density ¼ inch pellets formed from dried suger beet pulp. Beet Pulp is the pulp that remains after sugar has been removed from the sugar beet. A high calorie, low protein, low sugar fiber source. Beet Pulp Pellets are non-perishable and can last for long periods of time if stored properly. Always store Beet Pulp Pellets in a cool, dry and well-ventilated area. As long as the product is properly stored, Beet Pulp Pellets can last for well over a year or more. Available in 40 pound bags.

Benefits:

- No added molasses.
- No added sugar.
- Minimal waste, can be accurately weighed and measured.

Feeding instructions:

Standlee Premium Beet Pulp is a high fiber source for horses. Beet Pulp can be fed to mature horses at a rate of 0.05 to 0.2% of body weight/day depending on level of activity. For a 1000 lb horse, this equates to ½ -2 lbs of dry beet pulp per day. Gradually introduce beet pulp into the diet during a 7-10 day period. Beet Pulp is a dehydrated product and is recommended to be soaked (completely submerged) in water for a minimum of 15 to 30 minutes prior to feeding, or until properly softened. Soaking product for longer than 30 minutes is not recommended as extended soaking in hot or humid environments may result in mold growth. Never feed moldy or insect infested beet pulp to horses. Always provide free-access to fresh, clean water.

If you have questions, please contact the nutritionists at Standlee Premium Western Forage® or consult your Veterinarian.
